

Business English/accent coaching/career coaching sessions via pc/video/telephone conference

The advantages of modern technology as opposed to face-to-face sessions :

- Utmost flexibility – you can schedule your sessions at your own leisure. Should you only have time in the evenings or in your lunch break then so be it!
- Saving on travel costs for the trainer – The ultimate in-situ experience for both parties! Saving face – your colleagues can attribute your excellent progress in English or your great accent to your skill! As you will never have to leave the office early to go to a set class or sneak off to the conference room They need never know that you are taking classes!
- Concentration levels are higher because the trainer is not physically present that bit more concentration is required to stay focussed
- Practice in an authentic setting – What better way to rehearse telephoning- and video conferences by doing the real thing in-situ!

The logistics – how does it work?

The startlingly stress-free procedure! Proof that modern methods of communication in a foreign language do not need to be a nightmare!

- The date and time is agreed upon in advance
- Any course materials are scanned and emailed or faxed to you. If we are working from a book then the page number will be given to you in advance
- Your In-Situ trainer will contact you via the agreed method at the date and time agreed
- If required, "homework" is set and then faxed or scanned back to your In-Situ trainer

Simplicity and effective learning via modern technology

What you need

- For telephone sessions you need a landline
- For sessions via skype you need skype and a Webcam
- For sessions via Tele-conference you need official video-conferencing equipment
- For sessions via Video conference you need official tele-conferencing equipment