

TOEIC Preparation and exams. With a student average of 836 points In-Situ is your first stop for TOEIC preparation

In-Situ adopts a unique and tailored approach to ensure you maximum success in your TOEIC test. You will receive a former exam paper to check your current level and together with you will set a target score for your TOEIC exam (see below for levels). The exam is taken when you are ready, at your leisure and the test location is arranged according to your needs.

TOEIC course and testing protocol

With In-Situ you have the advantage that the course is tailored to your current and target level and the test can be taken at any time in any location.

- A former TOEIC reading paper is filled out to establish existing level
- A target score is set between In-Situ and yourself for the test
- Course times and length are agreed set based on your aims
- A combination of learning materials are compiled by In-Situ
- Practice tests are administered on an ongoing basis
- In-Situ arranges a test sitting convenient for you
- Results and certification are provided within 2 days

Why take the TOEIC test?

Approximately 2000 companies in Europe and other large international groups rely on TOEIC results before they make decisions on recruitment and training. Job descriptions from companies such as Accenture, Airbus, Coca-Cola, Renault, EADS, PSA Peugeot, Citroen, Unilever and NEC include minimum score requirements.

What the TOEIC qualification will do for you

More than 4.5 million people each year take the TOEIC tests to advance their careers and for more than 25 years TOEIC test scores have helped thousands of corporations, educational institutions and governments throughout the world recruit, hire and promote the most qualified candidates. Global business requires interactive language skills, and today, more than ever, employees are required to understand English so they can communicate effectively in the international workplace. In-Situ is an accredited test centre and frequently puts corporate clients through the TOEIC test with excellent results.
